Summary

Hi there! My name is Devesh and I am a first-year student at SRM College. I am highly interested in pursuing a career in cloud development, data science, DevOps, data analytics, web and app development.

I have experience in programming languages such as C, C++, Java, HTML/CSS, PHP, JavaScript, ReactJS, NodeJS, Python, and MySQL. I am constantly seeking new challenges to further my knowledge and skills in these areas.

In my free time, I enjoy working on coding projects, both big and small, and exploring new technologies and frameworks. I am also an avid swimmer, which helps me stay focused and motivated.

I am proud to have been a part of the Liftoff club at SRM College, where I am doing a web development internship and participated in various hackathons and events. These experiences have taught me the importance of teamwork and collaboration, as well as the value of hard work and determination.

Overall, I am excited about the opportunities that lie ahead and look forward to using my skills and knowledge to contribute to the world of cloud development, data science, and qa operations.

Thank you for taking the time to read my bio!
